

Description

chorus has more fluctuation in frequency, and flanger sounds like there is a phasing effect in it.

The sound is not natural because in the real world, there are no sounds that have a constant modulated frequency.